Officers must turn in receipts to be reimbursed. The Vice President of Finance will approve reimbursements at her discretion and will give the officer a reimbursement check within a week of turning in receipts.

RECRUITMENT

Formal recruitment takes place at the beginning of the spring semester. There are three rounds that are determined by the Panhellenic Council.

All members are required to participate in informal recruitment, recruitment workshops, and Formal Recruitment in some way. Members who will be abroad during formal recruitment or members who are on clerical are required to participate in informal recruitment, but will be excused from recruitment workshops.

Recruitment is a dry period. The dry period starts 24 hours before first round and ends 24 hours after bid day. This means that a member is to not consume or be anywhere that alcohol is present. Members who violate a dry period will face member discipline.

1. Voting Requirements

Members must be in good standing with the chapter to vote on a potential new member. MSC will distribute members who are not in good standing evenly among bumper groups so that potential new members get an even amount of votes. Members not in good standing are allowed to comment on the ballots, however.

Voting is completely confidential and any break in confidentiality will result in member discipline. Members should be silent while voting is taking place and cannot influence another member's decision in any way. MSC has the right to take away someone's voting privileges if they are found to be discussing votes for potential new members or trying to influence other women to vote a certain way. Members cannot ask other members to cast a courtesy vote for a particular PNM and doing so may result in member discipline.

2. Potential New Member Requirements

Women must have a minimum fall semester GPA of 2.5 to be invited back to a round of recruitment.

A legacy, per the Fraternity's definition, is the daughter, stepdaughter, sister or stepsister of a Tri Delta. The chapter may also recognize the granddaughter of a Tri Delta as a legacy. The chapter will not automatically release a potential new member from Tri Delta because she is a legacy for another organization. All legacies will be entertained at a minimum of one party beyond first round. This means that they may not be placed on the release list after first round. Legacies will not have priority over location on the Bid List, but will be located on the Bid List by the order of their Consensus Score. If the legacy is under the minimum first semester GPA of 2.5, whether or not she will be invited back after first round will be up to the discretion of the Membership Selection Committee based on reference letters and scores.

4. Use of References

References will be maintained and kept organized by the reference chairman. Chapter members can look at references any time they would like, in the presence of the reference chairman. The Reference Forms do allow Tri Delta to become more familiar with a potential new member, but she will not automatically be invited back to a Tri Delta round of recruitment for having a reference.

5. Recruitment Infractions

All members should be responsible for knowing Panhellenic recruitment rules and what will constitute a recruitment infraction. If the chapter received fines associated with recruitment infractions, the individual members responsible for the chapter receiving the infraction will be invoiced for this fine. If a member believes another sorority has violated Panhellenic recruitment rule, she should notify the MSC team.

6. Continuous Open Bidding (COB)/Informal Recruitment

If the yearly quota as outlined by Panhellenic Council is not met, the chapter will be open to COB.

All chapter members will be required to comply with informal recruitment rules as outlined by Panhellenic Council.

Women offered a bid through COB will be required to meet the same academic standards of membership that members offered a bid through formal requirement.
