

CONSTITUTION

Article I: Name

The formal name of this organization shall be Furman University Car Club

Article II: Purpose

Furman University Car Club shall offer Furman University students an opportunity to learn about the automotive industry while providing a fun and inclusive environment.

Article III: Affiliations

Furman University Car Club is an organization only found at Furman University. It is not associated with other Furman University organizations.

Article IV: Membership

To be a member of Furman University Car Club, one must be part of the student body, faculty, or staff at Furman University.

Article V: Officers

President:

To qualify for the position of president, one shall be a member of Furman University Car Club for no less than two academic semesters.

The presidential term lasts one year. Annual elections shall take place the first week of April.

Vice President:

To qualify for the position of vice president, one shall be a member of Furman University Car Club for no less than two academic semesters.

The vice presidential term lasts one year. Annual elections shall take place the first week of April.

Event Coordinator:

To qualify for the position of event coordinator, one shall be a member of Furman University Car Club for no less than one academic semester.

The term of event coordinator lasts one year. Annual elections shall take place during the first week of April.

Treasurer:

To qualify for the position of treasurer, one shall be a member of Furman University Car Club for no less than one academic semester.

The term of treasurer lasts one year. Annual elections shall take place during the first week of April.

Social Media Manager:

To qualify for the position of secretary, one shall be a member of Furman University Car Club for no less than one academic semester.

The term of secretary lasts one year. Annual elections shall take place during the first week of April.

Risk Management:

To qualify for the position of risk management, one shall be a member of Furman University Car Club for no less than one academic semester.

The term of risk management lasts one year. Annual elections shall take place during the first week of April.

Article VI: Advisor

The advisor is required to be a staff or faculty member at Furman University.

Article VII: Meetings

Meetings shall be held weekly

Article VIII: Finance

Furman University Car Club shall be financially supported by Furman University.

Article IX: Amendments

To amend an article in the constitution, four out of six executive members shall vote in favor of the amendment.

BYLAWS

Article I: Membership

Outside of elected positions mentioned in article V of the constitution, there is only base level membership. This membership will be of no cost.

Members must be a part of the student body, faculty, or staff at Furman University.

When question is raised regarding the actions of a Furman University Car Club member, the executive team will vote to determine the future of their membership. If the majority of the executive team's votes against the continuation of the person in question's membership, they will be revoked of their membership to the Furman University Car Club.

Article II: Selection of Officers

Officers will be selected during the election period mentioned in article V of the constitution. All members of Furman University Car Club may vote. Candidates may not vote in elections they are participating in. The candidate(s) with the majority of votes will hold their elected position until their resignation or the next election. There is no term limit for any elected officials.

Duties of the President:

- Coordinate and run events
- Create and present content in meetings
- Reflect the inclusive values in and outside of Furman University Car Club
- Address concerns related to the Furman University Car Club and its Members and determine if action is necessary
- Update Constitution when necessary
- Communicate future plans and goals for the club with Furman University
- Present future plans and goals of the club to club members
- Manage SyncDin
- Collaborations with other universities
- Safely possess key to storage space and overlook any work done in the area reserved for automotive work

Duties of the Vice President:

- Fulfill presidential duties when president is unable to
- Attend all meetings when possible
- Reflect the inclusive values in and outside of Furman University Car Club

- Address concerns related to the Furman University Car Club and its Members and determine if action is necessary

- Marketing and Advertisement

Duties of Event Coordinator:

- Plan on campus events

- Plan off campus events

- Communicate with Treasurer for events that need financing

- Communicate with Risk Management for events that require signed waivers

- Inform Furman University in advance of events when required

- Add events to SyncDin calendar

Duties of Treasurer:

- Communicate with Furman University and the Event Coordinator when events require financing

- Communicate with Furman University when finance is required

- Record and monitor the spending of Furman University Car Club

Duties of Social Media Manager:

- Make instagram posts weekly during the fall and spring semesters

- Update linktree

- Collect photos from all members that attend events for the weekly post

Duties of Risk Management

- Have liability forms ready at all events that require them and keep track of them

- Communicate with Furman University about new events that may require waivers

- Express any risk concerns to the rest of exec

- Update waivers for changes to the reserved space on campus and new tools in storage space

-Monitor group chats and social media to ensure there are no risks to the inclusivity, safety, or longevity of the club

When the vacancy of a position occurs outside of an election period, the president will appoint a new member to fill the position until the next election period. If the vacancy is the presidential position, the vice president will take their position and appoint a new vice president until the next election period. If the new vice president was previously holding an elected position, they will appoint a member who does not currently hold an elected position to fill it until the next election period.

Article III: Selection of Advisor

A new advisor is selected by the executive team when the previous advisor resigns, or is voted out of the club by the executive team. The executive team may determine an advisor is no longer adequate when the advisor does not promote the values of the Furman University Car Club or fails to communicate with the Furman University Car Club for a period of time which they deem questionable. To remove the current advisor from office, 4/6 members of the executive team must vote in favor of their removal.

Article IV: Committees

Committees will not be part of Furman University Car Club during the 2023 Spring semester. Committees may be formed during later semesters when the club has established itself. Any member of Furman University Car Club can propose a committee. The first requirement in the creation of a committee is approval from the president. The executive team then votes to determine if the committee should be formed. If the majority of the executive team votes in favor of the committee, the member who proposed it will automatically become the head chairperson of their proposed committee. The senate may then appoint other members to the committee. After the initial committee is appointed, elections will be held for the positions within the committee during the last week of August. The member holding the majority of votes from the members of Furman University Car Club will then fill the position. Officers who are not currently part of a committee may run for a position within the committee. Member's running for reelection may not vote in the election for their position. and Meeting Content committees.

Article V: Rules of Order

Weekly meetings will be casual with no dress code. However, when consulting with potential sponsors, business casual attire may be required (collared shirt, tie, dress pants).

There will be an anonymous message board where concerns and requests can be filed. The president will look at these concerns and talk to the person in question. If the president feels the person may have done something worthy of revoking their membership, the case will be reviewed by the senate. The executive team shall then vote on if the person in question should be revoked of their membership.

Article VI: Amendments

The bylaws can be amended by a majority vote from the executive team. These votes will take place anytime five or more Furman University Car Club members are concerned with a current bylaw.