

Furman Dungeons & Dragons Club 2025-2026 Constitution

Article I: Organization Name

The formal name of this organization shall be Furman Dungeons & Dragons Club (FUD&D).

Article II: Purpose Statement

Furman Dungeons & Dragons Club shall serve the purpose of bringing together a community of students who are interested in Dungeons & Dragons and other tabletop role-playing games. This serves as a form of entertainment, unique medium of creative storytelling, and a means of promoting friendships. In playing these games, we will be bringing the Furman community together. The club will provide a relaxed social environment for members to discuss these games, play, and promote the sharing of new ideas and perspectives.

Article III: Affiliation

This organization is a recognized organization at Furman University and adheres to all University policies as set forth in the Furman University Student Handbook.

Article IV: Member and Eligibility Criteria

Section A: Membership

Membership is open to any and all enrolled Furman students that wish to participate in the Furman Dungeon & Dragons Club. In keeping with Furman University's non-discrimination policies, membership shall be open to all undergraduate, day students. Our organization will not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, handicap, age, sexual orientation, political affiliation, or religious affiliation.

Section B: Membership Removal

Subsection 1: Removal due to Poor Conduct

If a member is given three total warnings by the executive board (see Article IX of the club Bylaws), the member in question may have their membership revoked by a majority vote of the executive board. A member removed in such a fashion will fall into Bad standing with the organization. Any member in Bad standing may appeal to the general membership to have their membership reinstated and be brought back into Good standing the following semester. They may only be reinstated through a meeting with the executive board and a two-thirds approval from the general membership in attendance.

Subsection 2: Removal due to Inactivity

This organization has the right to remove members from the club if they have been inactive for a year or more. Inactivity is defined as attending fewer than four meetings or events held by the organization within the span of an academic year. If a student is removed by these means, this does not place the student in question into Bad standing nor bans them from the club permanently. The student may rejoin at any time, but can not participate in elections until the next academic year or election cycle.

Article V: Officers

Section A: Positions of Executive Board

Furman Dungeons & Dragons Club shall have a President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Quartermaster. These officers constitute the executive board.

Section B: Dungeon Masters / Game Masters

A Dungeon Master / Game Master (DM/GM) is an active member of the organization, who has been approved by the executive board, and oversees any TTRPG run during club meetings or events. A DM/GM must fill out an application and run a trial one-shot with an executive board member present before being approved by the executive board. DM/GM members must run at least one session during an academic year or lose their status and need to re-apply.

Section C: Term Length

The term of office shall be from the May following the executive board's election until the end of the next academic school year. During the period between the election and the end of the academic school year, the newly-elected board members will be in training under the preceding executive board.

Section D: Election of Officers and Proceedings

Subsection 1: Eligibility for voting

Each present member in Good standing and who has attended at least four meetings or events held by the Furman Dungeons & Dragons Club is allowed to vote. See Bylaw Article I Section B for definitions on good and Bad standing. Active members can only vote once. Members of the executive board cannot vote unless there is a tied vote: see Article V Section D Subsection 5.

Subsection 2: Eligibility of Officer Positions

Any active member of the Furman Dungeons & Dragons Club in Good standing may run for the positions of Vice President, Secretary, or Quartermaster. Individuals who plan to run for President or Treasurer must also have spent a minimum of one full academic year on the executive board preceding the time of elections. If no one meets these criteria, the eligibility then opens up to any member who has spent a minimum of one academic year as an eligible member within the club up to the time of elections. Any active member intending to run must announce to the executive board their intentions at least twenty-four hours beforehand. Eligible members may only hold one active position within the executive board at any given time.

Subsection 3: Election Proceedings

Election of officers shall be held annually. At least two weeks' notice must be given before the election meeting. Elections must be held five weeks before the last day of classes. Candidates will be given time on the day of the election to present and orate their case, qualifications, etc., for the position they are running for before voting. Elections will begin with the position of President followed by the position of Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Quartermaster in that order. Elections will be administered by Google Forms or other such unbiased third party applications. Only student members in Good standing and who have attended four meetings and/or events in the prior academic year held by the Furman Dungeon & Dragons Club are eligible to participate in voting. The person who receives the majority vote in each position will be elected to that position.

Subsection 4: Voting Process

Voting will be held one officer position at a time in the order of President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Quartermaster. Voting will be held anonymously via a third party application with the club advisor administering the voting forms. If the club advisor is not available, graduating members of the executive board may serve as stand-ins.

Subsection 5: How a decision will be reached

A decision will be reached when a candidate has received a majority vote from the organization's eligible members. If a vote is tied, all current executive board members must vote as a tie breaker.

Section E: Vacancies

Any vacancy in an office shall be filled by a majority vote of the active general membership at the next meeting after the vacancy has formed. A vacancy is formed by an executive member who has chosen or been made to step down. An executive member can be made to step down by a majority vote of the executive board and the club advisor, excluding the member in question.

Section F: Duties of the President

The duties of the President are as follows:

1. The President is the chief executive officer.
2. The President will preside over meetings. If they are not present, the Vice President will fulfill this role, followed by the Secretary, then Treasurer and then finally the Quartermaster.
3. The President will supervise the Treasurer with the approval of the majority of the executive board. This includes the budget. The President will approve all purchases made by the Treasurer.
4. The President will arrange the organization's schedule pending ratification of a majority vote of the executive board.
5. The President will delegate responsibilities to other executive board members pertinent to said officer's position.

Section G: Duties of the Vice President

The duties of the Vice President are as follows:

1. The Vice President will assume the duties of the President should the office become vacant, or in the President's absence.
2. The Vice President will keep and have available copies of the Constitution and Bylaws.
3. The Vice President will assist the Secretary in managing the email lists, and run the social media related to the club.
4. The Vice President will work to manage interclub relations and outreach as well as organizing interclub and intraclub activities.
5. The Vice President will perform other duties as delegated by the President.

Section H: Duties of the Secretary

The duties of the Secretary are as follows:

1. The Secretary will be responsible for keeping the minutes of all meetings of the executive board.
2. The Secretary will provide a copy of the minutes for all members and keep a master file.
3. The Secretary will maintain a complete and accurate roster and account of attendance in an electronic format.
4. The Secretary will announce all meetings of the club via a weekly email, whether they be regular meetings or events, and how to attend them.
5. The Secretary will assist the Vice President in managing social media related to the club.
6. The Secretary will perform other duties as delegated by the President.

Section I: Duties of the Treasurer

The duties of the Treasurer are as follows:

1. The Treasurer is in charge of using the budget to fund club activities, acquire supplies, and equipment for the organization with approval of the majority of the executive board (including the President and Treasurer).
2. The Treasurer will keep a current and accurate record of all financial transactions.
3. The Treasurer will request the budget annually from SGA.
4. The Treasurer will develop a semester report containing a list of all receipts and disbursements and distribute them among the membership upon request.

5. The Treasurer will be responsible for checking the accuracy of all bills and invoices and paying them correctly and in a timely manner.
6. The Treasurer will perform other duties as delegated by the President.

Section J: Duties of the Quartermaster:

The duties of the Quartermaster are as follows:

1. The Quartermaster is responsible for storage and upkeep of all club supplies and equipment.
2. The Quartermaster will keep an accurate log of the location and condition of club supplies and all supplies loaned out to club members.
3. The Quartermaster will record the serial numbers of all club property in addition to marking the items as property of FUD&D.
4. The Quartermaster will work with the Secretary to send out email reminders to club members of what club supplies are available for loaning.
5. The Quartermaster will send email reminders to members about loaned supplies that are overdue for return.
6. The Quartermaster will work with the Treasurer to determine supplies for purchasing.
7. The Quartermaster will perform other duties as delegated by the President.

Section K: Duties of All Positions

The duties of all positions of the executive board are as follows:

1. All members of the executive board are expected to attend all meetings and events of the organization. If an executive board member is unable to attend, they should inform the executive board at least one hour prior to the meeting or event.
2. Upon the completion of their current term, the members of the executive board are required to assist the rising executive board in understanding and fulfilling their duties.

Article VI: The Advisor

Section A: Duties of the Advisor

The advisor shall serve as a resource by sharing knowledge and expertise as needed. The advisor will also assist in faculty outreach for the organization.

Section B: Requirements of Advisor Position

The advisor is a faculty or staff member of Furman University. An enrolled undergraduate student of Furman University is not eligible to be the advisor regardless of employment status.

Article VII: Meetings

Section A: Scheduling of meetings and events

The times for regularly scheduled meetings shall be once a week on a consistent, dedicated time decided by the executive board at the beginning of each semester. The time for events will be coordinated by the executive board on a need-be basis.

Section B: Notice of meetings and events

At least one day's notice will be given for each regular meeting and event.

Section C: Emergency Executive Meetings

Emergency executive meetings may be called with less than 24 hours' notice by any member of the executive board.

Section D: Proceeding of Meetings

The meetings shall include attendance, weekly announcements, and order of business. Order of business may vary in structure between the running of tabletop sessions of Dungeons & Dragons and other tabletop RPGs and general discussions where members may share thoughts and ideas about topics relevant to Dungeons & Dragons and the community. Meetings are open to all non-discriminating current students, faculty, and staff of Furman University. Other individuals may be invited on a case-by-case basis with majority approval of the executive board.

Article VIII: Finance

This organization receives funding from the Furman University Student Government Association council vote.

Article IX: Amendments

The Constitution can be amended during the yearly revision held during the summer with approval of the majority of the executive board.

Furman Dungeons & Dragons Club Bylaws

Article I: Membership

Section A: Active Membership

Active membership is open to all Furman students who meet the membership criteria, as stated in Article III of the Constitution. Active members maintain the right to vote and participate in organization activities. To remain active, they must be in Good standing and attend at least four meetings or events held by the organization each academic year. See the Bylaws Article I Section B for definition of Good standing.

Section B: Club Standing

Subsection 1: A member will be considered in Good standing with the organization by abiding by all rules in the Bylaws and Constitution. Failure to meet these requirements will result in the member falling into Bad standing with the organization.

Subsection 2: A member will be considered in Bad standing with the organization if they have failed to meet the requirements outlined in the Bylaws Article I Section B

Subsection 1. Additionally, a member can be removed if they have accumulated three or more warnings: see Bylaws Article V Section B Subsection 5 and 6.

Section C: Revoking Membership

Any member may have their membership revoked by a majority vote of the executive board after three warnings (see Article V of the club Bylaws). Members who do not attend at least four meetings or events within an academic school year may be removed due to inactivity.

Article II: Selection of Officers

Section A: Elections

Election of officers shall be held annually. At least a two weeks notice will be given before the election meeting. Elections must be held five weeks before the last day of classes. Candidates will be given time on the day of the election to present their case, qualifications, etc., for the position they are running for before voting. Elections will be administered by an unbiased third party. The person who receives the majority vote will be elected. See Article V Section D Subsections one and two of the FUD&D Constitution for further information on the process of elections and eligibility for positions.

Section B: Vacancies

Any vacancy in an office shall be filled by a majority vote of the active general membership at the next meeting after the vacancy has formed. A vacancy is formed by an executive member who has chosen or been made to step down.

Section C: Officer Removal

An officer may be removed from the executive board by a majority vote of the executive board and club advisor excluding the executive in question.

Article III: Selection of Advisor

Section A: Process for selection and removal of advisor

The advisor will be selected by majority vote of the executive board. The executive board will provide a list of faculty or staff that have agreed to take up the advisor position, to the general membership. Upon at least one club member providing reason for removal, an advisor may be removed by a majority vote of the executive board.

Article IV: Committees

The Furman Dungeons & Dragons Club has no official committees for governing the organization. If the executive board determines a committee is necessary, one may be formed out of active and willing members.

Article V: Rules of Order

Section A: Meetings

Club meetings begin with announcements by the executive board. After announcements the organization will split into smaller groups for their campaigns. A campaign is a group of people led by a Dungeon or Game Master that meets regularly to play tabletop role-playing games.

Section B: Internal Conflict

Subsection 1: Acceptable Behavior

Members of the organization are expected to conduct themselves in a professional and respectful manner during meetings. This means to speak in turn and not interrupt others, appreciate creative and personal differences, and provide positive and constructive criticism when asked for advice.

Subsection 2: Conflict Resolution

If a player has a conflict with another player of their campaign they are expected to go to their DM to help resolve the issue. If they do not feel comfortable speaking with the DM about the conflict they may reach out to the executive board. If a member has a conflict with their DM or someone not in their campaign that is related to the club, they should come to the executive board. If any member feels uncomfortable reaching out to the executive board about the issue, they should speak to the club's advisor. If a member has a formal complaint about another member, they should follow the grievance process outlined in Article V Section B Subsection 4.

Subsection 3: Tiers of Discipline

There are three definable tiers of discipline:

A. Grievance

B. Warning

C. Removal

See Bylaw Article V Subsections 4, 5, and 6 for definitions and procedures in handling each tier.

Subsection 4: Grievance

A grievance is a complaint filed by one member about another member to the executive board. After a grievance has been filed, it is up to the discretion of the executive board whether to administer a warning or if immediate removal may apply. Immediate removal is based on evidence gathered by the executive board from the relevant parties as well as general membership. All grievances must be filed to and mediated by the executive board until a resolution between members involved is found. A Furman Dungeons & Dragons Club Feedback Form can be located in the Official Documents channel on the club Discord, and can also be requested from any executive board member.

Subsection 5: Warning

A warning is a written, and if possible verbal, admonishment. This will be delivered by the executive board in response to inflammatory conduct or behavior, such as but not limited to harassment or discrimination. Following such actions, and through a majority vote of the executive board, the member who received the warning may be suspended from attending meetings and events held by the club until all allegations are investigated by the executive board and advisor. Should the action in question fall under the category of sexual harassment, or any other violation of Furman's Student Code of Conduct, the executive board will report such actions to the correct authorities. Members who garner up to three total warnings are subject to the proceedings of membership removal. See Article IV Section B of the Furman Dungeons & Dragons Constitution for member removal procedures.

Subsection 6: Removal

A removal is defined as either an executive board officer or member of the general assembly with three warnings. See Section B of Article IV in the Constitution for member removal or Bylaw Article II Section C for officer removal procedures.

Section C: Violation of University Policy

The executive board will report any violations of University policy.

Organizations may not address a member's violations of university policy via internal standards boards or other accountability mechanisms without prior approval of the Dean of Students Office. Conduct expectations unique to membership in the organization and that do not overlap or otherwise interfere with university authority may be addressed with the written approval of the AVP/Dean of Students or designee. Groups affiliated with national organizations that have established guidance and procedures over disciplinary matters, may follow the directive of those national organizations with regard to member conduct but must do so with written approval of the university.

Article VI: Amendments

Section A: Process in Adding, Changing or Removing Amendments

The Bylaws can be amended during the yearly revision held during the summer with approval of the majority of the executive board. Additionally, the Bylaws can be amended at any time if proposed by a member of the organization and agreed upon by a majority vote of the executive board. A member must present a proposed Bylaw change to the executive board, which will be discussed at the next executive board meeting. The list of proposed changes should then be presented by the executive board to the general membership at the following club meeting. Copies should be made available at the meeting. The decision whether to make the proposed Bylaw change or retain the current Bylaws will be voted upon at the meeting following the executive board's presentation. A two-thirds vote of present members is required to change the Bylaws.

Article VII: Outreach and Communication

At the soonest opportunity, the officers should create or arrange for the creation and upkeep of an emailing list, group site, and group chat for use by the student organization's members.

Section A: Discord

A Discord Server will be maintained with current club sponsored campaigns. This, in addition to weekly emails, will be one of the main forms of communication for any news or announcements.

No channels other than rules, news, and the important documents channels will be publically viewable until the member has received the active member role.

Roles and channels will be created for each campaign. Players will receive the role to access that channel when approved to join by the DM/GM. Campaign channels, when completed, will be archived until all members have graduated with the players having read only access.

There will be executive board roles in order of President, Vice President, Treasurer, Secretary, and Quartermaster. There will also be a DM/GM role for members who are approved. Executive board members will have access to all channels for safety and moderation purposes.

Article VIII: MeetingsSection A: General Club Meetings

Meetings for the general membership will be conducted at least once each week at a consistent, dedicated time decided by the executive board at the beginning of each semester. One day's notice must be given for regularly scheduled meetings.

Section B: Executive Board Meetings

Executive board meetings will also be conducted at least once each week at a consistent, dedicated time decided by the executive board at the beginning of each semester. Emergency meetings can be called under 24 hours notice by any member of the executive board.

Article IX: Minutes

Minutes will include the executive board meetings. The date of meeting, general discussion topics, and all main motions will be recorded. After each meeting, the minutes will be available to club members upon request. Amendments to the Bylaws or Constitution will be recorded in the minutes.

Article X: Loaning of Club Supplies and Equipment

Section A: Loaning Procedure

All members are eligible to request supplies held by the Furman Dungeons & Dragons club for loaning. A master document will be maintained, cataloguing the loaned item, date of loan, member in possession, condition of the item, and any additional notes if necessary. All loaned items must be returned within two weeks of the loan date and extended by displaying proof of the item's existence by temporarily returning the item. This extension is subject to the executive board's opinion on the condition of the item and the presence of other requests for the item. All items must be returned three weeks before LDOC. Any member possessing a loaned item for more than three weeks without extension is subject to overdue return policies: see Article X Section B of the Bylaws.

Section B: Overdue Return Policies

Members in possession of a loaned item will receive an email three days before the end of the loan period and one day before it is due informing them of the return date. If the item is not returned by the end of the period, an email will be sent informing the member that they have one week to return the item before they receive a warning and the executive board initiates contact with SGA: see Article V Section B Subsection 5 of the Bylaws for the definition of a warning. For each additional week the item is not returned another warning will be given to the member. Following this point, should the item not be returned, they will receive weekly emails reminding them to return the item. After six total weeks of having not returned the item, the member will have accumulated three warnings and their membership will be revoked. See Article I Section C of the Bylaws for information about revoking membership.

Section C: Lost/Damaged Items

In the case that a member would lose or return a borrowed item in a state of irreparable damage as deemed by the executive board, the member would receive a warning. See Bylaws Article 5 Section B Subsection 5 for the definition and procedure of warnings. In the event that an item is lost or irreparably damaged, the executive board will have a vote to purchase a replacement for the lost/damaged item.

Section D: Ban on Loaning Items

Members who are in Bad standing with the organization or have one or more warnings related to item mismanagement may be denied access to further loans at the executive board's discretion. See Article I Section B Subsection 2 of the Bylaws for the definition and handling of Bad standing.
