

Furman University Arts and Crafts Constitution and Bylaws

(2024 - 2025 Academic year)

CONSTITUTION

Article I: Name

The formal name of this organization shall be Furman University Arts and Crafts (acronym: FUAC).

Article II: Purpose

The purpose of Furman University Arts and Crafts is to provide students with a welcoming and educational environment in which to learn and make art and handmade crafts. The club found a community of students who were interested in making arts and crafts of all skill levels. The organization accomplishes this through weekly meetings, lectures, and workshops.

Article III: Affiliations

This organization is a recognized organization at Furman University and adheres to all University policies as outlined in the Furman University Student Handbook.

Article IV: Membership

Furman University Arts and Crafts membership is open to all enrolled Furman University students. One will be considered a member when they join GroupMe and SyncDin. In keeping with Furman University's non-discrimination policies, membership shall be open to all undergraduate, day students. Our organization will not discriminate based on race, sex, handicap, age, sexual orientation, political affiliation, or religious affiliation.

Article V: Officers

The club shall be governed by the following six officers:

1. President:

- Oversees the general operation of the club.
- Represents the club in official matters.
- Coming up with ideas for club meetings, and student involvement fairs.
- Organizes weekly meetings, lectures, and workshops.
- In charge of every activity of the club.

2. Vice President:

- Assists the President in managing the club and acts in their place when necessary.
- Informing members of club policies.
- Ensuring proper communication about these events to the members.

3. Secretary:

- Manages club records (including membership rosters and meeting minutes, and handles club correspondence).

4. Treasurer:

- Manages the financial affairs of the club, including collecting dues (if applicable) and coordinating with the university regarding club funds.

5. Event Coordinator:

- Organize ideas and coordinate the club's events.
- Booking rooms or venues for events and meetings.

6. Social Media Manager:

- Manage the club's social media pages.
- Take pictures, film videos, and write posts for social media pages.
- Communicate with people about consent for media pages.

All officers must be active members of the club and are elected annually by a majority vote (two-thirds or above of voters) of the membership. The election is only legible if two-thirds or above of the members vote.

Article VI: Advisor

The club advisor's purpose is to oversee the policies of the club and help the President when deemed necessary. The advisor does not hold any decision-making or voting authority within the organization, as organizations are student-initiated and student-run.

Article VII: Meetings

- A. Required meetings: Twice per year. Fall meeting for explaining the club rules and commitments; Spring meeting to vote for the new officers.
- B. Weekly meetings: Held once a week. The president and Vice president will determine the time and announce it to all the group members by GroupMe.
- C. Additional meetings: The President or Vice President may call for additional meetings in terms of necessary about the club's activities, lectures, and workshops.
- D. Attendance: Not all members are required to attend every meeting. Weekly meetings require an officer, if neither of them can attend, members will be notified that the practice is canceled on GroupMe.

Article VIII: Finance

- A. The Furman University Arts and Crafts shall acquire funds by applying for funds from SGA and through the Department of Campus Recreation, under the Division of Student Life at Furman University.
- B. Finances also be obtained through holding fundraisers and/or merchandise sales.
- C. General finances are managed by the Club Treasurer.

Article IX: Amendments

The Furman University Arts and Crafts will allow all members to propose amendments to the Club's Constitution. The amendments must followed by a vote meeting held by the President. The meetings will be eligible if two-thirds or above members attend. The amendments can only be passed if voted by two-thirds or above voters.

BYLAWS

Article I: Membership

- A. Any enrolled Furman University students who are interested in arts and crafts and willing to join are eligible to apply for membership.
- B. The application process simply includes joining GroupMe and SyncDin.
- C. A member will be removed immediately if any rules on the constitution or bylaws are broken. They will not be allowed to attend any further in-club meetings or activities of the club for the remaining semester.
- D. The removing members' process simply includes removing from GroupMe and SyncDin, which will be decided by the officers after a meeting with the members.

Article II: Selection of Officers

- A. Officers selection: All officers must be active club members and are elected annually by a majority vote of the membership. Two-thirds or above of the voters for Treasurer, Secretary, and Vice President positions, and three-quarters of the voters for the President position. The election is only legible if two-thirds or above of the members vote.
- B. Primary duties of each officer: Officers' duties are written as Article V, of the Constitution.
- C. Every member who has held their membership is eligible to nominate themselves or be nominated by others for any officer position (only the President position required a membership for at least 1 semester).
- D. An Officer will be removed immediately if they break any rules on the constitutions or bylaws of the club. The President will hold an unusual selection to complement that position. If the President breaks the constitution or bylaws, they will be removed from the officer, and the Vice President will become the new President and hold an unusual selection to complement the missing position.

Article III: Selection of Advisor

- A. The advisor shall be selected by the Officers upon request.
- B. Members can complain about the advisor by submitting their compliments to the President or the Vice President. If the compliments are deemed to be accurate, the President and Vice President shall hold a meeting to vote on whether the advisor shall be replaced. At least two-thirds of members have to attend, and if two-thirds or above of the voters want to replace the advisor, the advisor will be removed and a new advisor shall be selected.

Article IV: Committees

The President may appoint special committees composed of selected or all officers as needed for events, special projects, solving internal conflicts, or members' removing cases. These committees will be temporary and will disband once their objectives have been completed.

Article V: Rules of Order

All members are expected to adhere to Furman University policies and demonstrate respect for fellow members regardless of gender, race, and background. Any member who violates safety rules or misbehaves may be dismissed from the club by a majority vote of the officers.

Internal conflicts between members will be examined depending on each case. The conclusion will be drawn from the voting results of the officers.

Organizations may not address a member's violations of university policy via internal standards boards or other accountability mechanisms without prior approval of the Dean of Students Office. Conduct expectations unique to membership in the organization and that do not overlap or otherwise interfere with university authority may be addressed with the written approval of the AVP/Dean of Students or designee. Groups affiliated with national organizations that have established guidance and procedures over disciplinary matters may follow the directive of those national organizations concerning member conduct. Still, they must do so with written approval of the university.

Article VI: Amendments

The Furman University Arts and Crafts will allow members to propose amendments to the Club's Constitution. The amendments must followed by a vote meeting held by the President. The meetings will be eligible if two-thirds or above members attend. The amendments can only be passed if voted by two-thirds or above.
