

Fall 2018

Music Placement Information

Any Furman student with musical skill is invited to participate!

When asked what makes studying music at Furman appealing and satisfying, our majors talk about the many opportunities they have to perform. Students choose from major ensembles like the Symphony Orchestra, the Symphonic Band, the Furman Singers, and the Marching Band, as well as smaller groups like the Percussion Ensemble, the Jazz Ensembles, the Chamber Choir, and the String Quartets. Talented vocalists participate in full-scale productions of the Lyric Theater. Dedicated performers may be honored by selection to the biannual Honors Recital. Twice yearly, the choral organizations combine with the orchestra to present choral-orchestral concerts of works from the oratorio repertoire. Talented instrumentalists compete for solo performances with the orchestra in our Concerto Competition. Rarely does a small liberal-arts college offer the range of performing opportunities available at Furman. You can choose from among more than 20 different student ensembles. All performing groups are open to majors and non-majors alike.

Music Theory Placement Tests

Placement testing in music theory, aural skills and keyboard skills was held during the January and February audition weekends. If you missed the tests, see below. Intended music majors, if approved to begin music study, you are pre-registered for the three components. You will be notified the first day of class if your placement test results earned you a partial course exemption.

You are assigned to either the 8:30 a.m., 10:30 a.m., or 11:30 a.m. Basic Musicianship sequence, which meets Monday-Friday.

Basic Musicianship Placement Testing (Theory):

Friday, August 24, 3:30-4:30 p.m., DMB-104

For students seeking a music major who have not yet been tested and for non-majors seeking approval to take Basic Musicianship (Theory sequence) for your Visual and Performing Arts credit. E-mail Dr. Mark Kilstofte (mark.kilstofte@furman.edu) if you have any questions.
