BYLAWS

Article I: Membership Will there be different categories of membership and, if so, what are the rights of different members? What does the selection/application process include? What are requirements for membership (financial obligations, minimum gpa, etc.)? What is the process for removing a member?

The categories of membership are as follows; Inactive member: is an individual who has expressed interest in Grill Club by signing up on syncDIN or by attending a meeting, but has not attended one of the last three meetings. Active member: Has gone to at least every other meeting (unless excused by the grill counsel). Padawan: Has been an active member for at least one semester. Padawans are eligible to run for and vote for Grill Master. Active Members and Padawans are required to provide funding for common use grill items as the need arises. If they do not provide funding, they will be considered an Inactive Member.

Article II: Selection of Officers How are officers selected/elected? What are the primary duties of each office? What procedure should be followed in the event of a vacancy? What is the process for removing an officer from a position?

The Grill Master is selected by a simple majority vote from the Grill Padawans, and once elected he or she will appoint four Grill Knights to advise him or her. The primary duties of the Grill Master and Grill Knights are to host and prepare for each grill event, acquiring the required materials, coming up with discussion topics, and handling the distribution of funds. In the event of a vacancy of a Grill Knight then another shall be appointed by the Grill Master, and if there is a vacancy in the Grill Master position then a special election will be held to determine the next candidate. The Grill Master has the power to place a Grill Knight up for a vote of removal in which the Grill Padawans vote to remove the Knight from his or her office. This act requires a simple majority to pass and should only be used in the event of crimes against the club, not for personal reasons. The Grill Master cannot be removed until his or her semester long term is up, unless all other members of the club have unanimous vote to remove them that passes with a $\frac{2}{3}$ majority. In the event of a tie in the grill master election, a grill off will ensue, where each candidate will grill their signature dish. A randomly selected uneven group of padawans will do a blind tasting of each dish and vote on their favorite. The individual who wins the grill off by a simple majority wins the election.

Article III: Selection of Advisor How is the advisor selected? What are the provisions for removal of an advisor?

The Grill Counsel will have to come to make a unanimous decision in order to pick an advisor. The removal of an advisor will also require a unanimous decision from the Grill Counsel.

Article IV: Committees What committees (or similar) will be established? What are the functions and duties of each? What is the process for establishing ad-hoc committees?

Committees will be established by the grill counsel as needed through a unanimous decision, the function of these committees will also be determined by the console.

Article V: Rules of Order How will business be conducted? How will internal conflicts be resolved?

Members not involved in the conflict will be randomly selected through the use of a random number generator. These members will come to a majority consensus to determine the next course of action to resolve the conflict after hearing both sides present their case.

Article VI: Amendments What is the process for amending the bylaws?

A simple majority vote will amend the bylaws. In the event of a tie, a grill off will ensue, where a person representing each opinion will grill their signature dish. A randomly selected uneven group of padawans will do a blind tasting of each dish and vote on their favorite. The individual who wins the grill off by a simple majority wins. If the individual who represents the side of amending the bylaws wins the grill off, then the bylaws will be amended. If the individual who represents the status quo wins the grill off, then the bylaws will not be amended.
