

Improv!able Cause Constitution

Article I: Name

The formal name of this organization shall be Improv!able Cause.

Article II: Purpose

The purpose of Improv!able Cause is

- (i) to allow students at Furman University to join into a collective of students who share a common interest in Improvised comedy, and general silly activities.
- (ii) to serve Furman University as a whole by providing monthly Improvised Comedy shows that the entire student body is invited to join, as well as hosting open practices to help those who wish to improve their improvisational skills while not involved inside the troupe.
- (iii) to add more 'play' to campus in creative and silly ways, with the ultimate goal of helping people take life a little less seriously.

Article III: Affiliations

Improv!able Cause has no national affiliations and is a Furman-specific, student-run organization.

Article IV: Membership

- (i) In keeping with Furman University's non-discrimination policies, membership shall be open to all undergraduate, day students. Our organization will not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, handicap, age, sexual orientation, political affiliation, or religious affiliation.
- (ii) Once a person is a member of Improv!able Cause, they remain a member throughout their time at Furman, unless they;
 - a. choose to revoke their membership,
 - b. or are voted out by virtue of a unanimous vote of all members of the troupe minus themselves.
- (iii) Once a member of Improvable Cause graduates from Furman University, they are granted the title of alumni. They are always welcome back to join for pre-show rituals, attend and play games at weekly practice, as well as participate in the annual Homecoming Private Show.

Article V: Officers

Improv!able Cause officers, or the executive team will be selected upon the past executive team's nomination and selection. If there is any kind of contention and two candidates are put up and cannot be decided by the executive roles, the troupe will convene for an official confabulation (see Article VII: Meetings).

- (i) The executive council shall be composed of:
 - a. President
 - i. The President is the primary contact for the organization for all internal and external matters.

- ii. The president holds primary responsibility for the troupe's actions, movements, and overall direction.
 - iii. The president is responsible for planning, organizing, and executing all meetings besides ones designated by them to the other members of the executive council.
 - 1. These include shows, private shows, practices, receptions, cosponsored events, and any such troupe activities.
 - iv. The president ensures all members are in good standing and handles any kerfuffle's or disagreements if and when they arise.
 - v. The president oversees and acts as a leader for the troupe, making sure a good cohesive bond is created.
- b. Czar
 - i. The Czar assumes the responsibilities and roles of the President when the President is absent, or otherwise occupied.
 - ii. The Czar may hold responsibility for planning and organizing some events, depending on the President's discretion.
- c. Exchequer
 - i. The Exchequer is responsible for managing all financial transactions that the troupe requires.
 - ii. The Exchequer manages any incoming revenue and outgoing purchases that the president or other members may have purchased.
- d. Coordinator of Funny
 - i. The Coordinator of Funny is responsible for upkeeping the official improv games list, which includes adding, editing and subtracting games as the troupe or the COF sees fit.
 - ii. The Coordinator of Funny will fill in the role for the Czar if absent and will assume the role of the President if both the president and Czar are absent.
- e. Secretary of Defense
 - i. The Secretary of Defense has the primary responsibility for defending the troupe from any kind of threat, physical, nonphysical, and semi-physical.
- f. Emissary
 - i. The Emissary will manage the social media, art and design world of Improv!able Cause.
 - ii. The Emissary is the primary source of outreach, recruitment, and advertising.

Article VI: Advisor

The advisor of the troupe has the responsibility of

- (i) Being available for consultation or advising.
- (ii) Maintaining a good relationship with the faculty and
- (iii) Making sure the troupe stays on solid footing in regards to academic and behavioral standards.

The advisor may not have decision-making or voting authority within the organization, as organizations are student-initiated and student-run.

Article VII: Meetings

There are 3 main kinds of club meetings, defined as follows

- I. Practice Assembly:
 - a. Held for the purposes of practice.
 - b. Practice Assembly must be held three times a week, and will consist of a total number of 4 and a half hours. Practices are usually held as one two hour, one hour and a half, and one hour long practice.
 - c. Practice Assemblies are scheduled based on students availability.
 - d. Practice Assembly can be cancelled, moved, or reduced in time by a joint decision of the President and the Czar.
- II. General Assembly:
 - a. Held for purposes of auditions, callbacks, rituals, or any other general requirements.
- III. Confabulation:
 - a. Held for the purposes of decisions.
 - b. Any member of the troupe can call a confabulation, and can require all members of the troupe to attend. This person is then responsible for finding a time and date where everyone can be there.
 - c. Confabulations can exclude certain members of the troupe ONLY IF the vote being decided on includes them.
 - d. Confabulations enter a voting period, which will act as follows:
 - i. Each member of the troupe, including the president, gets one vote.
 - ii. All votes MUST be unanimous among the members of the troupe who were called to the confabulations.
 - iii. Votes may only be one of two choices. Aye or Nay. Voting will be conducted all at the same time, and will be held up with physical representations as well as vocal. Thumbs up and crossing ones arms represents aye and nay, respectively.

Article VIII: Finance

Funds will come from Furman University. If more funds are needed, the team may host fundraising activities and/or events as well as seek external sponsorship.

Article IX: Amendments

Amending the constitution can only occur if an official confabulation is held.

Improv!able Cause Bylaws

Article I: Membership

- (i) Each member of the troupe is an ‘active member’ – members can also be given express permissions, duties, and responsibilities as detailed in Article V of the constitution.
- (ii) Members of the troupe can be removed with an official confabulation.
- (iii) Adding a new member can occur at any time, but must pass through an official confabulation with all troupe members present. New members must have participated in auditions and callbacks to be given a position.
- (iv) New members will not be fully inducted until they are given their baby names, placed on the family trees, and participate in one full show, as well as fulfilling all other new member requirements.
- (v) There are no requirements for membership. Be a nice person. Don’t be stupid.
- (vi) For information on how to remove a member, see Article V of the constitution.

Article II: Selection of Officers

See Article V. of the Constitution

Article III: Selection of Advisor

Advisors are selected by an official confabulation and can be selected or removed at any point.

Article IV: Committees

The troupe will have no formal committees.

Article V: Rules of Order

The troupe will use confabulations to charge major disagreements.

Seth Jones (’25) will henceforth always be allowed to utilize any conventional oven device that is possessed by Johnathan O’Neil (’25)

Article VI: Amendments

The bylaws can be amended with an official confabulation.