

Furman Pauper Players Constitution

Updated Spring 2021

Introduction: Founding

In 1992, an ambitious and talented sophomore named Mary Mitchell Campbell noticed that one form of the arts was glaringly absent from Furman's campus—musical theatre. At the time, a musical had not been staged at Furman since a production of "South Pacific" twenty-seven years prior. Campbell had found her mission; she gathered a group of interested friends and vowed to end musical theatre's invisibility. The Furman Pauper Players, named so on account of the group's meager, personally supplied budget, marked the beginning of a new era with their first entirely student-run production of "Nunsense." In the subsequent year, Campbell continued to astound audiences, often parents at Parents' Weekend, with her delightful interpretations of musicals like "Godspell" and "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat." Campbell's legacy will continue through primarily student-run musical theatre productions. She began what undoubtedly has become a beloved Furman tradition.

Article I: Name

The name of this organization is the Furman Pauper Players (FPP).

Article II: Purpose

The purpose of FPP is twofold:

1. To perform quality musical theatre productions at Furman University.
2. To provide motivated students of any major or background with the opportunity to sharpen their skills in leadership, communication, performance, cooperation, and responsibility.

Article III: Membership

Section I.

Any interested Furman students are welcome to become members of FPP. After involvement in just one show, a student is considered to be a member of FPP. While auditions are necessary for any stage production, interested students and FPP members who are not cast in any given show will be invited to help with offstage facets of the production—lighting, sound, costumes, props, publicity etc. All members are subject to the terms of this constitution.

Section II.

Members of FPP are eligible to apply for FPP council if they have participated in at least one musical or Cabaret in the last two semesters that they have been on campus. While the shows are being affected by Covid19 this rule does not apply. Any eligible member of FPP can become a member of the FPP Council by going through the application process released by the current council during the Spring semester.

Article IV: Council

Section I: Members of Council

The Council will comprise experienced Pauper Players selected through an application process explained in Section V. By a majority vote, the size of Council can increase or decrease as deemed necessary by the current Council. Members of Council are responsible for making executive decisions regarding the performance calendar, show selection, director selection, and any other administrative aspect of the organization.

Members of Council who do not hold executive officer positions can perform executive duties in the absence of the elected officers as decided upon by the president. These members can also serve on ad hoc committees formed throughout the year.

Section II: Executive Officers and Responsibilities

The President shall be responsible for:

- A. Presiding over Council meetings.
- B. Acting as the primary ambassador of FPP to the university.

- C. Delegating responsibilities to members of the Council and forming ad hoc committees.
- D. Counting votes during Council meetings.

The Treasurer shall be responsible for:

- A. All fiscal business of FPP, which includes writing checks, withdrawing and depositing money. The use of a debit card is advised against.
- B. Creating a budget to submit to the Student Government Association.
- C. Working together with SGA to alter the budget should any changes be necessary.
- D. Deciding upon allocations of the budget in coordination with the directors of each show. Allocations are to be presented to the Council and voted on by a majority vote.
- E. Working with the director(s) of each show to keep them aware of their budget allowances and limitations.
- F. Refunding those who spent money for FPP from the FPP bank account with the Bank of Traveler's Rest.
- G. Acquiring reimbursement from SGA.
- H. Making financial reports at Council meetings as appropriate.

The Secretary shall be responsible for:

- A. Taking roll at the start of each Council meeting.
- B. Taking minutes at each Council meeting.
- C. Sending the minutes to all members of the Council and its advisors.
- D. Promoting communication within the Council itself.
- E. Keeping a list of the active members of FPP.
- F. Collecting votes during Council meetings and recounting the votes after the President.
- G. Maintaining and updating the Constitution and Bylaws.

The Events Coordinator shall be responsible for:

- A. Coordinating all Pauper Players events aside from the two major musical productions.
- B. Reserving the space for such events if necessary.
- C. Serving as the liaison between Council and the Director of the Cabaret.

The Publicity Committee shall comprise the Public Relations Chair and Social Media Chair.

The Public Relations Chair shall be responsible for:

- A. Publicizing FPP auditions, performances, and other events around the university and in the community.
- B. Publicizing FPP itself.
- C. Obtaining assistance from any members of FPP for publicity purposes whenever necessary.
- D. Making publicity reports at Council meetings as appropriate.
- E. Ordering cups and stickers for the Student Involvement Fair in the Fall.

The Social Media Chair shall be responsible for:

- A. Publicizing all the above mentioned FPP events through social media accounts including but not limited to Facebook and Instagram.
- B. Updating SyncDin

The Morale Chair shall be responsible for:

- A. Snacks and water for the cast during Tech Week of the two major musicals.
- B. Getting thank you notes for the production teams of the two major musicals.
- C. Coordinating with PR chair to create and distribute general Pauper Players apparel (T-shirts, hats, etc)

"The Members at Large will be responsible for:

- A. Serving as a Delegate during productions such as cabarets and main stage shows
- B. Supporting Executive Council members in their responsibilities when needed
- C. Will coordinate the front of house for main stage production

The delegate shall be responsible for:

- A. Attending all production team meetings.
- B. Serving as an extra liaison between Council and the production team.
- C. Voicing concerns of the Council to the production team.
- D. The delegate should not already be a part of the production team.

E. The delegate is permitted to hold another executive position.

Section III: Meetings

The FPP Council will meet once a week at a regular time decided upon by the Council members. At each meeting, officers will make their weekly reports and any other necessary business will be made known. FPP business should be kept private and should not be discussed outside of meetings. Each member of Council will be allowed two unexcused absences each semester. For an absence to be excused, you must tell the secretary prior to the meeting.

Section IV: Council Presence

The FPP Council is to serve the role of producers for each of its productions and its presence needs to be felt by the members of FPP. All members of Council, if they are not already involved in the production, are required to attend at least one rehearsal to check up on progress and see if anything needs to be done by the Council to aid the director or the progress of the show. Each member will report their rehearsal attendance and observations at the following Council meeting.

Section V: Council Applications: Officer Selection

Members of FPP are eligible to apply for FPP council if they have participated in at least one musical or Cabaret in the last two semesters that they have been on campus. Any eligible member of FPP can become a member of the FPP council by going through the application process released by the current council during the Spring semester. Any members of council who wish to remain on council must re-apply. Each new officer is chosen by a majority vote of the graduating seniors and any current Council members that are not running for the position in question. The appropriate size of the Council will be determined by the current Council with a minimum of seven members and maximum of ten.

Section VI: Council Applications: Members at Large Selection

After the seven officers are selected, the three Members at Large will be elected by a popular vote of the entire Pauper membership. Any applicant who was not selected for an officer position is included on the ballot. Voting opens immediately after officer selection and must remain open for at least 72 hours. After voting has closed and before the next council meeting, the Incoming President, Incoming Treasurer, and Outgoing President will view the results of the vote and make the final decision on the three Members at Large should any ties occur.

Section VII: Provisions for Recall

Members of FPP Council may be removed from the Council for malfeasance in the office.

The issue must be brought to the President who will set up a meeting with the Council Member in question. A neutral third Council Member who did not bring up the original complaint will also be present at this meeting. Depending on the discussion, the membership of the Council Member in question may or may not be brought to a vote at the following council meeting, and the offending member may be removed if 70% of Council members agree.

If the member of Council with the complaint is the President, or the offending member of Council is the President, the issue must be brought to the Secretary who will set up a meeting with the Council Member in question. A neutral third Council Member who did not bring up the original complaint will also be present at this meeting. Depending on the discussion, the membership of the Council Member in question may or may not be brought to a vote at the following council meeting, and the offending member may be removed if 70% of Council members agree.

Article V: Shows

Section I: Director and Show Selection

Any member of FPP, regardless of their position in the organization, is eligible to direct a FPP show. A student interested in directing must choose the show that they would like to direct and form a proposal to be presented at a Council meeting. The proposal should include creative concepts for the music and set design, where the show will be performed, potential crew members, and a tentative timeline for rehearsals and tech week. After all interested parties have made their proposals, the FPP Council will discuss and choose by a two-thirds majority vote the directors and shows for the upcoming season. Shows and directors for the next season will be decided upon by the end of the Spring semester the school year before the upcoming season. Following the Director Selection Process, the Council will release an additional application for Fall Cabaret Directors. Spring Cabaret Directors will be chosen by the end of the Fall semester prior to the Spring Cabaret.

Section II: Responsibilities of the Director

The responsibilities of the directors are as follows:

- A. Complete responsibility for the show and has at his/her disposal the allocated resources of FPP Council.
- B. During the preparations for the show, the FPP Council can request to meet with the director at any time to give feedback and suggestions.
- C. Communicate regularly with the cast, crew, and Council members to make sure that preparations are going smoothly and are within the show's budget.
- D. Attend meetings during the production of their show when needed.
- E. Selecting crew members with the assistance of the Council, including but not limited to: Assistant Director, Music Director, Stage Manager, Technical Director, Lighting Designer, Set Designer, Costume Manager, Props Manager, Publicity Manager, and Choreographer.
- F. Larger scale shows must have at least two people in charge; the director and his/her assistant (who may be, for example, the Music Director or Technical Director).
- G. Deciding upon the attendance policy for rehearsals and making it known to cast and crew at the very beginning of production.
- H. Act in a professional manner at all times, since they are representing the entire organization.
- I. If a cast or crew member is not fulfilling his/her responsibilities by coming to rehearsal and learning music and lines, the director has the authority to remove them from the show and find a replacement if necessary.
- J. Ensuring that a playbill is made for their production.
- K. If FPP Council feels that a director is not fulfilling the aforementioned requirements, the Council may replace the director with a majority vote.
 - a. The issue must be brought to the President who will set up a meeting with the Director. A neutral third Council Member or member of the production team who did not bring up the original complaint will also be present at this meeting. Depending on the discussion, the removal of the Director may or may not be brought to a vote at the following council meeting which will include all members of the Production Team, and the offending Director may be removed if 70% of Council members and every member of the Production Team agrees.
 - b. Should the Director be removed from his/her position, the Council and Production Team will vote on the New Director. In order for someone to be chosen as the New Director, the Production Team must be unanimous and Council must reach a majority.

Sections III: Rehearsals

Rehearsals will occur several times a week for a minimum of four weeks for any given show. Attendance is mandatory at all rehearsals for called cast and crew members. Individual cast members should practice at home in order to increase the efficiency and productivity of group rehearsals. If a rehearsal is missed, it is the individual's responsibility to learn and practice the missed material. The director must decide at the onset of a production what the attendance policy for rehearsals will be; the cast and crew must be notified of the policy at the very beginning of production.

Section IV: Performances

The number of performances for any given FPP show will vary, though it should not be excessive and, thus, grueling. The times and places of performances will be known at the time of director and show selection the Spring semester prior to the season.

Article VI: Faculty Involvement

Section I: Advisor

The advisor of FPP is any supportive and willing Furman faculty or staff member who will serve as a non-voting member of the organization. The advisor shall assist the group in the execution of roles and responsibilities, provide feedback to the organization regarding its operation and function, and serve as a resource to FPP, sharing knowledge, expertise, and experience with the group.

Section II: Liaison from the Music Department

The liaison from the music department is any Furman music faculty member willing to give his/her support to FPP. The liaison from the music department will assist FPP with synchronizing the music department's and FPP's calendars and encouraging support for the organization from the other members of the music faculty.

Section III: Liaison from the Theatre Department

The liaison from the theatre department is any theatre faculty member willing to give his/her support to FPP. The liaison from the theatre department will assist FPP with synchronizing the theatre department's and FPP's calendars and encouraging support for the organization from the other members of the theatre faculty.

Section IV: Restrictions

FPP is a completely student-run organization, and faculty advisors and/or liaisons will not be allowed to choose Council members, serve on the Council, and choose directors or shows. Council will inform advisors of any pertinent information.

Article VII: Provisions for Amending the Constitution

Amendments may be made to the FPP Constitution by a majority vote of the members of FPP Council.
