

FURMAN

Furman Student Organization Advisor Agreement

Student Group: Men's Club Soccer

Advisor Name: Owen McFadden

Advisor Expectations Checklist

The chart below outlines some expectations for student leaders and advisors to create a mutually agreed upon advisor role (keeping the general expectations in mind). The advisor and the officers of the organization should rank the items using numbers 1-5 (1-4 being a scale of the advisor role, 5 if the item is more of a student duty). Officers may complete the checklist and then discuss with advisor if preferred. For items determined not to be the responsibility of the advisor, it is important to decide who has that responsibility.

Rating System

1. Essential duty
2. Occasional duty, helpful
3. Optional duty, nice but not necessary
4. Not an advisor role
5. Exclusive student role

5	Attend all general meetings
5	Attend all executive committee meetings
5	Take an active part in formulating the goals of the group
5	Take the initiative in developing teamwork and cooperation among the officers
5	Call meetings of the executive committee when believed to be necessary
5	Attend all group activities and events
5	Meet with the chief student leader before each meeting
5	Help the chief student leader or other officers prepare an agenda before each meeting
5	Be quiet during the general meetings unless called upon
5	Speak up during discussion when the advisor thinks the group may make a poor decision
5	Exert influence with officers between meetings

Furman Student Organization Advisor Agreement

5	Initiate ideas for discussion when the advisor believes they will be helpful to the group
5	Be one of the group, except for voting and holding office
5	Veto a decision when it violates a stated objective, the bylaws, or University policy
5	Check the secretary's minutes before they are written in final form
5	Check all official correspondence before it is sent
5	Get a copy of all official correspondence
5	Inform the group of infractions of their bylaws, codes, and standing rules
5	Recommend programs, speakers, etc.
5	Make the group aware of its stated objectives when planning events
5	Cancel any activities when you believe they have been inadequately planned, will violate University rules, or are unsafe
5	Insist on an evaluation of each activity by those students responsible for planning it
1	Let the group thrive or decline on its own; do not interfere unless requested
1	Let the group work out its problems; allow for mistakes and "doing it the hard way"
4	Represent the group in any conflicts with members of the University staff
1	Be familiar with University resources and procedures that affect group activities
5	Explain University policy when relevant to the discussion
5	Explain University policy to the entire group once a year
5	Depend on the officers to observe University policy throughout their terms
5	Be a custodian of all group paraphernalia, records, etc. during the summer and between officer transitions
5	Keep the official files of the organization
5	Request to see the treasurer's books at the end of each semester
5	Take an active part in the orderly transition of responsibilities between old and new officers at the end of the year

Furman Student Organization Advisor Agreement

Advisor Signature: Aven M McFadden

Organization Officer Signature: Joe D. Carr

Date: 12/29/17